Reports of the firing of guns or the explod-ing of bombs on Punchbowl Monday week night caused some pilikia among citizens to know what it was all about. Probably some of the boys were celebrating Reform in that way in lieu of the torohlight procession, or were saluting the band on Emma Square. Later information was to the effect that the flashes and reverberations emanated from the mouths of cannon fired off in honor of the great Reform victory.

Business

The homestead lots up Nuuanu valley, advertised on Saturday last by the Minister of Interior, have caused somewhat of a "boom." Only two of the twelve lots re-mained to be applied for when the offices in the Government building closed on Monday of last week.

Union of Churches-

A meeting, Tuesday evening, to take further steps towards the completion of the union of the Bethel and Fort Street Church congregations, was held, according to announcem in the vestry of the Fort Street Church, Mr. P. C. Jones in the chair and Mr. F. J. Lowey secretary. The time of the meeting was largely occupied in passing the Constitution which was considered clause by clause.

Corrections.

It turns out that the reports from the elec-tions on Hawaii and Molokai and Lanai were slightly inaccurate. Later information gives Mr. J. D. Paris to North Kona, and Mr. G. P. Mr. John M. Oat received the sad intelli-gence, by the Australia's mail, of the death, in San Francisco on the 13th inst., of his mother, the widow of the late Capt. J. M. Oat, who died in Honolulu two years ago last February. It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Capt. Oat had a few months before his death celebrated their golden wedding. The late Mrs. Oat left for San Francisco on the 19th of last June, by the brigantine W. G. Irwin, after a residence of thirty-two years in Honolulu. Of her four sons, J. Mort, and Frederick are in California, Lewis A. is in Connecticut, and John M. in Hono-Mrs. Oat, who was seventy-two years of age, had been ailing for a short time, but nevertheless her death was unexpectedly sudden, being immediately caused by the exertion of turning over in bed without assistance. ### Surprise Party to Hon. C. Bertlemann.

On the evening of Friday the 16th inst, the Rilauea friends of the Hon. C. Bertlemann gave a surprise party at his residence at Pilas in honor of his election as Noble for the island of Kauai, and also to make some return for the hospitality which he has so frequently and so genially extended to them. A party of about twenty started from Kilauea t 7 o'clock, taking an ample store of good things for the evening's entertainment. The nonorable gentleman and his amiable lady were totally surprised by the large number of visitors, but Mr. Bertlemann soon took in the situation and welcomed them with his

Music, singing, dancing and round games were the order of the evening and were main-tained to a seasonable hour. Supper was served at 10 o'clock, when Mr. Bertlemann in a very appropriate speech thanked his friends for their visit and touched briefly upon the principal political questions of the day. Misses Bertleman, Titcombe and Her-rick at the piano, and Masters Bertlemann with violin and flute supplied the music and very materially added to the success of the evening. Amongst the visitors were the Mrs. R. A. Macfie, Miller and Lindsay; Misses A. Johnson, Herrick, Titcombe, K. and M. Lindsay; Drs. Craddock and Herbert and the Messrs, R. A. Macfie, Murray and

Hilo Letter.

EDITOR GAZETTE:-The silver lining to the cloud which has hung above us for some time past flashed into a golden fire, when it was announced by telephone that the railroad was assured and would be commenced at once. The confidence we have ever had in Mr. Wilder succeeding in his enterprise, not-withst-inding the vexations delays that have been forced upon him, has never let our spirits droop, but the delays at the very present were the particular cause of annoy ance. The future of Hilo appears so de-pendent upon the immediate progress of this work that any obstruction thrown in the way of its speedy execution almost seems as if things were against us. What Mr. Wilder's plans are remain to be seen, but we rest nappy in his assurance of the success of his scheme. The surveyors returned on Wednes-day, having completed their operations, so that as far as the feasibility of the route is concerned, there can be no doubt.

A remarkably heavy thunder shower passed over town on Saturday last. The rain came down in a perfect sheet for some time Some washouts took place on the roads and the embankment to the bridge at Widnaku fell, rendering it unsafe for travel. We thought it of the tall secretary a long time ago. It's the Hilo malaria. Hilo, September 22d.

Notes from Kanai.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—The election passed off with results already reported. An overwhelming majority assembled at the polls to witness the departure of the Constitution tinkers up Salt River, to the inspiring strains of the constitution of the constit of "They'll never return, no, never return." Every one is jubilant over the success of the reform ticket throughout the islands.

Work is being vigorously pushed on the roads, and Kauai bids fair to have the best highways in the group. In renewed enter-prise, general improvements and restored confidence the effect of the supremacy of reform is being made manifest.

The Kealia mill is undergoing extensive repairs. The main building has been raised to a hight of sixty feet, and a new vacuum pan, of sixteen tons dried sugar capacity, will be added to the others now in use. Foundations are being laid and necessary additions are being made to accommodate the new diffusion plant expected from Germany in November. The smokestack has een carried to a hight of 115 feet.

A most painful accident happened to a German named Bode at the mill on Thursday. He was easisting the placing of a large pipe, hung by recalls, when it suddenly wung round, crushing his hand against an iron pillar. Dr. Herbert was immediately ummoned, and found it necessary to amputate the little finger at once. The Doctor hopes to save the other fingers, and Mr. Bode, though suffering considerably, is progressing as well as can be expected. Planting is going forward with a vigor characteristic of the Kapaa and Kealia man-

A runaway of Col. Z. S. Spalding's spirited carriage horses occurred on Thursday. They ere hitched in front of the plantation office when fright caused them to break loose and dash wildly up the hill toward Kilanea. Fortunately their onward career was brought to a sudden termination by one of the steeds plunging into a ditch. They were easily secured and an examination revealed no serious damage to either creatures or carriage. The new Kapaa school house is approaching completion. The force of teachers now consists of, Clarence M. White, principal, and Thomas R. Neal, Mrs. Nugent and Mrs. Sherman, assistants. The school started on reform long before July 7th, and the future will enhance its excellent reputation. Sus picious improvements are going on at Mr. White's residence. He is probably animated by a praiseworthy spirit of "reform." A large and commodious store, under the management of Mr. Tweedie, now allures the unwary purchaser into buying at nearly Honolulu prices. Mr. Tweedie's experience in Honolulu eminently qualifies him to cater for the Kausi public, and his genial, sunny manners have won him hosts of friends. (As soon as his eye catches this he will probably advertise in the GAZETTE.) He is assisted by our old time favorite, Adam Lindsay. To-morrow, Sunday, Colonel R. C. Spalding attains his fifty-fifth birthday. In honor of the happy event, he gives a dinner to his friends. Fifty-five years sit as lightly and becomingly on the Colonel's brow as blushes on a maiden's cheek. His eye has lost none of its youthful fire and his step is as elastic s a fawn's. [Is he a subscriber?]

Rifle practice is going on here to an over-whelming extent, "Moriarity" has been trying to take the target by surprise. He will hit it with all his might sometime, and will then challenge Williams, Hustace and Nicolls. Look out for your laurels, gentle-

The "deep, sad sea" gave up to Miss Chapin a bottle, encrusted with barnacles more venerable than the Kanai cockroach. It was found impossible, owing to the clinging caresses of the aforesaid, to wit, barnacles to extract the cork. Dr. Herbert broke his neck, I mean its neck, and a paper was found inside quite frilled up from moisture. From this paper it appears that the bottle was thrown overboard in 1866. Further particu-lars I have been unable to learn. Miss Chapin will, if requested, loan it to the Gazette. Reef Orme. Kapaa, Kanai, Sept. 22.

Mr. Brown offered for inspection and filed on behalf of his clients, his estimated valuation of the real property belonging to the estate, at this time, and proposed a divi-sion of the same between the three heirs.

Mr. Dole made a proposition somewhat different from Mr. Brown's, and after a consultation with the Court as also with the widow who was present, and wish Mr. Ma-naku, the following division was agreed upon and ordered by the Court, to be effected: The house and premises at Aala, at present occupied by Mr. D. Manaku and wife and also portions rented, value, $4,000, the property at Kapalama, under lease with other property, value $300, one-fourth of cash on hand ($1.415.56), $353.89, one-half of pro-perty at Kapaakea, Waikiki, ($4,000), $2,000, total, $6,653.89, to Mrs. D. C. Allen and the lot purchased by him at a sale made under order of the Court in this estate, value $1,500, to the widow, Mahole Moanauli, and apportioned to her in lieu of release of all her dower in the estate. Bankruptey of J. M. Kapena. Present W. Smith, attorney for petitioning creditors; T. Gulick, assignee, in person. Petition assignee for allowance of accounts and discharge. The claim of Allan Herbert was ordered barred by limitation of statute, one appeared in behalf of the claim. Court ordered the assignee's accounts allowed, that he be discharged and his bond cancelled, when he shall have assigned to the bankrupt all undisposed of property and shall have paid into Court the balance cash in his hands.

In bankruptcy of S. J. Levey & Co. Present A. J. Cartwright, assignee, in person. Assignee's petition for discharge was read. The Court ordered that he be discharged and his bond cancelled on his filing in Court the receipts of creditors for the third and final dividend of balance cash on hand.

Gazette's Kohala Letter-

EDITOR GAZETTE: It is true that the reform candidate of this district would have been elected without the aid of the Portuguese and other foreign vote, but it is a question whether the happy result would have been obtained without a great amount of work for weeks before the election, in the way of personal effert to disabuse men's minds of the false views naturally rising within them, or promulgated by the enemy, and convincing them that the Reform party was honestly working for the universal good of the people, and for the wiping out of cor-rupt practices in the government.

It must be a matter of pride and gratitude to all true Reformers, that the grand results attained, were obtained without bribery or gin. Anti-Reform ballots were held for sale almost up to the moment of closing the polls, but the Reform party did not want that kind of a vote, and it found no market. Would that this idea could be indelibly impressed on every mind, for future use, viz., that no true Reformer wants to gain his cause by corrupting or aiding to corrupt his fellow man, by buying his vote.

The manager of one of the plantations here has put himself in the unenviable position of open opposition to the Reform m ent, not only by not qualifying himself to te, but by keeping an employee at work in s field all election day, for the purpose of eventing his acting as special, to which he ad been appointed, and enforcing this comalsory work by a threat of discharge from is situation, in case the order was disrerarded. Such, at any rate, are said to be the facts in the case.

Some people do not naturally take to good work, nor favor anything that they cannot have the entire bossing of. Kohala, Sept. 22.
